

Hi all,

Easter Holidays have arrived, I think...

I hope you are all enjoying your time at home with your family and helping out where you can.

As the next two weeks are Easter holiday break, the activities below are to reflect this. They are a selection of enjoyable (hopefully), Easter related activities. All are optional, and have been provided to support your time at home rather than put you under pressure to complete them.

I must say I miss you all and the routine of the school day. I'm sure by now you are all missing seeing your friends. Hopefully we will be back to normal life soon. Try to stay positive and be kind to everyone in your house.

Ní neart go cur le chéile!

Enjoy Easter and I hope you have fun!

- Make an Easter card or print and colour one of those I have attached. Send this to a grandparent or relative of your choice, who you cannot see at this time. Write a short letter to enclose in the card. Tell them some of your news and ask some questions also. It's always lovely to get a card in the post, you might make somebody's day!

- Make an Easter Basket- you can use any materials you wish, try and make it nice and colourful if possible. Email a photo to me.

Easter Maths

- I recently bought some eggs. The prices were displayed excluding VAT. The VAT rate was 20% on the three medium eggs and 15% on two large eggs. What was my total bill?
 - Button egg €4 (Medium)
 - Caramel Egg €6 (Medium)
 - Mars Egg €5.50 (Medium)
 - Galaxy Egg €6.60 (Large)
 - Double Decker Egg €8.40 (Large-for guess who?)Total Bill-----?

Geography

- Research how Easter is celebrated around the world. Choose a country to write about.
- Design and name a new Easter Egg, draw your creation and create an advertisement poster for the egg. Devise a catchy name and tag line that will stick in the buyer's head. Try and make the egg different in some way, maybe ingredients or shape.

English

- How is your household celebrating Easter this year?
- Keep up your reading each day- choose a book or other reading material that is of interest to you.
